DETAILED ACTION

In the response to the restriction requirement, Applicant elects group I, claims 1-14 with traverse.

In the case if the proton conducting polymer membrane of group I are in condition for allowance, then any groups embrace said claimed composition, will be rejoined and be allowed also.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Madison et al (5218076) or Savinell et al (5525436), they are of record on 1449.

The references disclose the reactants and under cited conditions to form PBZ polymers comprising polybenzimidazoles (see col. 4, lines 15-32 and in claims 1-22 of Madison; col. 2, line 51 to col. 7, line 63 and in claims 1-32).

The disclosures of the references differ from the instant claims in that they do not disclose the steps of the claimed process.

However, the claimed steps of the process are included in the broad teachings of the references. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select reactants under conditions within the limitations of the instant claims since they have been shown to be effective in a similar system and thus would have been expected to provide adequate results. There is no showing of unexpected results derived from said selection.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thornton, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-14 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-32, 1-28, 1-74, 1-25, and 1-19 of U.S. Patent No. 7235320 of record on 1449 or 7332530 or 7384552 or 7540984 or 7582210. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are included in the broad teachings in the claims of the references. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select reactants under steps of the process in the claims of the references within the limitations of the instant claims to get the claimed proton conducting polymer membrane in the absence of a showing of unexpected results derived from said selections.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 1 and 13 recite the broad recitation temperature of up to 350 C, from about 0 C to 150 C, and the claims also recite up to 280 C, and from 10 C to 120 C, respectively, which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

In claim 1, the term "obtainable" on line 3 and on line 13 render the claim indefinite in that it infers that the membrane may be obtained by other means than those claimed. See Ex parte Tanksley 26 USPQ 2d 1389.
